SCHOLARSHIPS

Click on the links below for more information on available scholarships.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Write a Winning Essay

High school seniors, juniors and students currently registered at post-secondary institutions can write an essay to qualify for the B. Davis Scholarship. The deadline to apply for the $1,000 award is May 28, 2012.

There is no age requirement for this non-academic scholarship. Be sure, however, to include your name, where you are currently attending school, and what your future academic plans are. Please do not send transcripts or letters of recommendation at this time.

An essay of less than 1,000 words is required on a topic designated on the website. The current essay topic is to discuss how your education has contributed to who you are today and how it will affect who you will become. Your submissions must be sent via email at awards@studentawardsearch.com.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Everything's Just Ducky!

Can you imagine yourself wearing duct tape to the prom? If you can pull it off with style and pizzazz, you just might qualify for a Stuck at Prom Duct Tape College Scholarship. High school students over 14 years old can apply between March and mid-June for awards up to $5,000. The Stuck at Prom scholarship requires applicants to create their prom outfits, or accessorize them, with items made of duct tape. A photo of the couple wearing their items should be submitted to qualify for the award. There are also categories for accessories embellished by duct tape. To learn more, visit duckbrand.com/promotions/stuck-at-prom.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Win the Sweepstakes

High school seniors and current undergrads are eligible for the SunTrust Off to College Scholarship Sweepstakes. Between October 28, 2011 and May 11, 2012, 15 winners will receive $1,000 to be applied toward their educational expenses. The deadline entry is May 11, 2012.

The SunTrust scholarship sweepstakes is an easy way for students to possibly win a $1,000 scholarship by just completing an entry form. You may complete the on line form at their website or send in a 3x5 index card as outlined on the website. Only one entry is allowed per person per month. The money may be used at any accredited college or private career school. For additional info, visit <http://suntrusteducation.com/sweeps>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Get A Jump Start!

Most high school seniors are looking for a jump start on educational expenses. Current high school students in grades 10 through 12 are eligible to apply for the College JumpStart Scholarship of up to $1,500. The deadline to apply is April 15, 2012.

Financial need is not a consideration for this annual, merit-based scholarship. The main requirement is a commitment to going to school and the ability to express your goals for getting a college education. To get additional info, go to <http://www.jumpstart-scholarship.net>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Do YOU Love Science?

Do you look forward to your school science fair every year? Current students between the ages of 13 and 18 are eligible to apply for the Google Global Science Fair Scholarships of up to $50,000. This prestigious scholarship is in partnership with leaders such as National Geographic and Lego. Google is searching for the best and brightest young scientists from around the globe. Creative, interesting projects should be relevant to the world today. Full information will be available soon. If you would like to be notified when registration opens for 2012, sign up at <http://www.google.com/events/sciencefair>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Entrepreneurial Drive?

Do you have perseverance, entrepreneurial drive and financial need with the desire to get a college education at an accredited public institution in your state? You may be eligible for the KFC Colonel's Scholars Program with awards up to $20,000. The rules of entry and complete information regarding this scholarship program is posted on the KFC website at <http://www.kfcscholars.org>. You may apply after 2/08/12.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Can You Communicate?

Jim McKay was well respected successful in the television broadcast industry, and for many years was the voice of the Wide World of Sports and the Olympics. The Jim McKay Memorial Scholarship awards a high school senior pursuing a communication major with $10,000. Applicants must complete a registration form, and write an essay about a specific topic provided by the scholarship committee. Scholarships are usually awarded to those high school seniors who go above and beyond the normal boundaries of their classmates. This scholarship requires submission of SAT and ACT scores, so you will need to have those tests completed before your application. Academic merit is also considered when determining winners of this award. For complete application details and deadline information go to the website at <http://www.emmyonline.org/scholarship/>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Dedicated to the Prom

Have you been planning for and eagerly awaiting the prom for years? Your prom enthusiasm coupled with your imagination might score you the Prom Guide Scholarship for Creative 2012 Graduates for $1,000. The deadline to apply is April 15, 2012.

Applicants must submit a short YouTube video explaining the benefits of using the PG Card with the word “prom” in its title. You can also win a $1,000 scholarship by helping Prom Guide look for models for the Prom Guide Teen Model Search. Get additional details about these scholarship opportunities at <http://www.promguide.com/scholarship>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Substance Abuse

Have you or someone you know personally ever had a personal encounter with drug and/or alcohol abuse? If you can express yourself in a compelling manner, you may qualify for the Alert Scholarship of up to $500. Winning essays are also published in Alert Magazine. There are no deadlines to apply for this award but students must attend a high school located in Colorado, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington or Wyoming.

Applicants must have a minimum 2.5 GPA, plan to attend college after graduation and submit an essay between 650-800 words about their encounter. The essay should discuss the drug/alcohol abuse, how it was dealt with, and whether it was handled right or wrong and why. To get additional details, visit <http://www.alertmagazine.org/scholarship.php>.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . Buried Treasure

Can you write an effective essay about future buried treasure? If so, you may qualify for the Big Dig Scholarship of up to $3,000. The deadline to apply is June 1, 2012. High school seniors who will be entering their first year of college in Fall 2012, as well as first and second year college students may apply. You must submit an essay of 500-1,000 words describing what particular item you could bury today for your future relatives to discover 200 years from now that would have such immense value that it would end all of their financial problems for good. To learn more about this thought-provoking scholarship opportunity visit www.antiquetrader.tv/studentscholarship.php.

Scholarships for High School Seniors 2012 . . . $2,000 No Essay Prize

How it works -- the $2,000 “No Essay” Scholarship is open to all students and those planning on enrolling within 12 months. The monthly winner is determined by random drawing and then contacted directly and announced on our Facebook page. One entry per person, but you can come back each month to try again. Visit our website for more details at <https://collegeproowler.com/scholarship/apply.aspx> about this most unusual scholarship program.

GRANTS FOR KIDS’ PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAMS

ChildObesity180 and the Partnership for a Healthier America have announced the launch of the Active Schools Acceleration Project, a national competition to identify and reward effective school-based programs and technological innovations that promote physical activity for children.

The ASAP competition will award a total of $500,000 to schools with the most innovative, impactful, and cost-effective physical activity programs, and to technology developers who create new ways of using technology to promote increased physical activity among youth. In addition to monetary awards, top winners will participate in funded pilot studies aimed at expanding their programs' reach and impact.

Entries are invited in two categories — one for school-based programs and one for technology innovations.

The school program category is for programs that target children between the ages of 5 and 12 and are already being deployed in a school setting. Ideas for programs not yet developed will not be considered. Entries will be accepted from teams of two to six individuals from public, private, charter, and parochial schools. A school's physical activity program may be any curriculum, activity, environmental modification, event, or other initiative that promotes quality school-time physical activity among the target population. Each school team must include a team leader who is an employee of the school or district where the program is currently deployed. Additional team members should be individuals with some connection to the program such as students, parents, teachers, coaches, and volunteers. The competition will award prizes of $25,000 to up to ten regional school program winners, and prizes of $100,000 to up to two national school program winners.

The technology innovation category seeks to identify technological innovations, including both newly developed technologies and unique applications of existing technologies, that can motivate kids to get at least sixty minutes of moderate to vigorous activity every day. "Technology" may include but is not limited to devices, tracking and measurement systems, software applications and platforms, innovative uses of social media, gaming, smart phones, mobile phones, and more. These technologies may be practical for increasing physical activity in many settings and among students of all ages; however, all entries must be able to demonstrate at least one application of the technology that could be feasible and impactful within an elementary school environment. Entrants to the technology innovation category should form a team of two to six individuals age 18 or older to present their concept. Two grand prizes of $50,000 will be awarded in the technology innovation category to execute a school-based pilot study featuring the winning technology.

Complete competition details and the application portal are available at the ASAP Web site (<http://www.activeschoolsasap.org/>).

Deadline: April 2, 2012

EDUCATION GRANTS

The McCarthy Dressman Education Foundation seeks to serve as a catalyst in maximizing the skills and creativity of K-12 educators and in cultivating pioneering approaches to teaching that result in dynamic student learning. To that end, the foundation has announced a call for applications for its 2012-13 Academic Enrichment grants, Teacher Development grants, and Student Teaching scholarships.

The Academic Enrichment grants program provides funding for in-class and extracurricular programs that nurture the intellectual, artistic, and creative abilities of pre-2 grade students from low-income households. The foundation considers proposals for projects that aim to deepen students knowledge and provide opportunities to expand their awareness of the world around them. Applications will be considered from educators who are employed by schools or nonprofit organizations (e.g., community centers, museums, etc.); have the background and experience to complete the project successfully; have direct and regular contact with students in grades pre-K to 12; work with students from low-income households; and are willing to work in collaboration with the foundation. A project may have one to many participants involved in its planning and implementation. However, the foundation does require that each application be submitted in the name of one individual even if there are two or more participants involved in a single project. Grants will be awarded to individuals in amounts of up to $10,000 per year, for a maximum of three years.

Teacher Development Grants provide funding to individuals or small teams of teachers in the formation and implementation of groundbreaking collaborative K-12 classroom instruction. The grants provide opportunities for teachers to integrate fresh strategies that encourage critical inquiry and to observe their effects on students. Teachers have the opportunity to reflect and write about their projects, as well as to share their results with other teachers. Applications will be considered from individuals who are licensed K-12 teachers employed in public or private schools, have the background and experience to complete the project successfully, and are willing to work in collaboration with the foundation. A project may have one to many participants involved in its planning and implementation. However, the foundation does require that each application be submitted in the name of one individual even if there are two or more participants involved in a single project. Grants will be awarded to individuals in amounts of up to $10,000 per year, for a maximum of three years.

Student Teaching Scholarships in the amount of $6,000 provide financial and one-on-one mentoring by foundation members to student teachers in their final year of teacher education programs at New Mexico State University; the University of California, Santa Cruz; the University of Texas at Austin; and West Virginia University.

Complete grant and scholarship program guidelines, summaries of funded projects, and application materials are available at the McCarthy Dressman Education Foundation.

Deadline: April 15, 2012

EDUCATIONAL VIDEO GAME GRANTS

The Entertainment Software Association Foundation, in partnership with the Joan Ganz Cooney Center at Sesame Workshop, the Federation of American Scientists, the Association for Middle Level Education, and the California Endowment, have announced the Education Challenge Grant Program, a new funding opportunity for K-12 educators seeking to incorporate computer and video games into their curricula. The competition is designed to help foster a unified movement around the incorporation of video games into the classroom environment.

All schools wanting to utilize computers and video games to strengthen their current curricular offerings or create new learning experiences for their students are encouraged to apply. The awards will be based on the originality and creativity of lesson plans that reflect the contributions that games make to a child's learning.

A judging panel of educators and game developers will choose the winners based on their demonstrated ability to utilize computer and video games to both strengthen their current curricular offerings and create new learning experiences for students. Three prizes in the amounts of $40,000, $20,000 and $15,000 will be awarded to the most innovative entries to use toward implementing the proposed lesson.

All proposals must be submitted by a K-12 teacher, administrator, or other educator, and must be implemented in a public, private, parochial, charter, magnet, or other accredited nonprofit school in the United States.

Visit the ESA Foundation Web site for complete program guidelines and the application form.

MORTGAGE RELIEF (HARP 2.0 FOR UNDERWATER HOME LOANS)

HARP 2.0 – Do you qualify for mortgage relief?

Alamy

By Alison Paoli

The HARP 2.0 refinance program will become widely available to underwater homeowners today and is expected to bring mortgage relief to those who are current on their home loan, but have been unable to refinance into today's historically low mortgage rates because of their negative equity status.

The full implementation of the revamped HARP 2.0 program, which was initially announced by President Obama in late October 2011, has taken several months to come to fruition. And while in recent months it's been available on a manual basis and limited to just the homeowner's current servicer, the series of changes that the computerized version of the program has undergone will dramatically increase the volume and speed of applications processed. (Compare flying 100 people across the ocean versus 100 people swimming across it).

To be eligible for a HARP refinance, you can either use this HARP eligibility calculator with detailed eligibility explanations or follow the general guidelines below:

1. Your loan must be owned or guaranteed by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. If you are unsure, you can check both Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's websites or you can call their toll-free numbers for confirmation.

Fannie Mae: <http://www.fanniemae.com/loanlookup/> 1-800-7FANNIE (8 am to 8 pm ET)

Freddie Mac: <https://www3.freddie.mac.com/corporate/> 1-800-FREDDIE (8 am to 8 pm ET)

2. You must have closed your current loan on or before May 31, 2009.

3. You must not have made a late payment within the past six months and have had no more than one late payment within the past 12 months.

4. Your loan must fall under the current conforming loan limits. If you are unsure, you can find out here: <http://themortgagereports.com/loan-limits/>

If you met the general guidelines, what's next?

Zillow's Director of Mortgages, Erin Lantz, recommends you start by contacting your current loan servicer to see if you are eligible.

"Your current servicer should be able to tell you if your loan qualifies for a HARP refinance and can help you apply for it. However, just like a regular mortgage program, it makes sense to shop around and compare rates, fees and lender service levels. So start with your current servicer, but it is also a good idea to check out at least one other lender."

NOW CASTING FOR THE NEXT GREAT SINGING COMPETITION

Do you want to sing with KELLY CLARKSON, JENNIFER NETTLES, LIONEL RICHIE or ROBIN THICKE? Are you an aspiring amateur singer? Have you always wanted a music career but life kept getting in the way? Do you know you have the talent to make it big but just need that big break? Do you want one of our four Superstars to guide you to a record deal grand prize? We are currently on a nationwide search for the next breakout amateur singers to partner up with one of our four Superstars in ABC's Summer Singing Competition Show, Duets!

HOW TO APPLY:

Simply email us at DuetsCasting2012@yahoo.com In the subject line of your email submission be sure to list the Superstar you'd like to partner with. Your email submission should include the following:

- Name, age, occupation, location
- Contact information (phone number & email)
- Brief description of your singing ability and why you want to sing with your specific Superstar.
- Recent video link of you singing (preferably A capella) Upload your UNLISTED video to YouTube.com and make sure the settings are set for UNLISTED.

All submissions become property of producer and you MUST be at least 18 years old to participate. Good luck.

Deadline: April 10, 2012

CASTING CALL: DR. PHIL SHOW

DOES YOUR STUBBORN HUSBAND REFUSE TO GET HEALTHY?

Are you afraid your husband is headed for a heart attack if he doesn't change his eating and exercise habits? Is he 45 or OLDER AND ALWAYS TIRED? Is he the life of the party, cracking jokes, cooking delicious foods that you fear may end up clogging his arteries? Does he take social drinking to a new level? Does he smoke periodically? Is he a charismatic showman who lives life to the fullest but you've noticed an expanding waistline that he insists is no problem? Do you fear he might not be around for your children's graduations or weddings? If you believe your husband could use a wake-up call from Dr. Phil, please submit your story today.

 EMAIL THE SHOW IF YOU'RE WILLING TO APPEAR ON TV WITH DR. PHIL and you LIVE IN LAS VEGAS, NEVADA AREA ***

To contact the show and for more information, visit <http://drphil.com/plugger/?Sort=Category> .

Brides and Basketball has partnered with certain NBA teams around the country to bring you the most exciting, innovative bridal show event! An hour before the doors open to the general public for the game, the doors open to brides, grooms and their guests for the bridal show. This unique concept is designed to get the grooms involved in the wedding planning process. When you buy a ticket to the bridal show, you get a ticket to the NBA game! It's the best of both worlds! NBA teams salute YOU, the Bride and Groom, as you take on the task of planning your wedding....together! Bring your groom with you to speak with bridal professionals who will answer all your wedding planning questions on site, book with you directly, and set you up for the wedding of your dreams. Visit with florists, caterers, dj's, photographers, videographers, wedding planners, and more! See the latest in bridal fashion. But the fun doesn't stop there! With each paid admission you get a FREE ticket to watch the game! The arena opens early to brides and grooms for the bridal show. Spend as long as you need to consult with our wedding professionals, and afterwards, take your seats to watch the high intensity action of a professional NBA game-- at no additional cost. It's a fantastic way to spend a date night out with the love of your life and most likely the only bridal show you will ever get him to attend with you! We'll see you at the game!
